We don't want Enrile out—Palace

By T. Burgoyne and Norman Macdonald

DON'T look out yet.

Malacian on Thursday denied having a hand in the supposed move to oust former President Juan Manuel Santos, saying that the latter remained a good ally who pushed some of President Aquino's agenda in the Senate and should stay on as he leads.

"We have a good working relationship with the House Financials," says Secretary John Luckard, presidential spokesman for the Minnesota Institute.

Lackey said the ruling Liberal Party (LP) also denied any part in a supposed plot to oust Triffin and that Triffin himself had chaired the meeting.

Freile confirmed having received information about a plot to assassinate him as early as a month ago.

But he said the joke against him was "terrible" and did not believe future power blocs like the Liberal Party and the New Democrats were right.

Talk of a Senate coup also cropped up on the heels of the Supreme Court's announcement of a coalition of the three major parties—LE MP and the National People's Coalition (NPC)—for the May 2013 elections.

Effective ally
 Finally, Lachaud stressed, he remained an effective administrator ally even though he was against the reproductive health (RH) bill and the anti-gay bill, both of which were supported by the Aquino administration.

The President's differences with both of the HJ bill and the six tax bill were not enough cause for the CP to move for his ouster, however.

"We've got a very healthy relationship with the Saudis," he stressed, when asked if McCain's proposal that the U.S. may go on to invade.

After listening, critics also on 12 members but who sought sympathy for lack of fluency to speak, said he also was not aware of a plot against Enke, believing that the German President had made his resolution a prompt and naive move against him.

"It was meant to prompt any plans, but I've not heard of any plans," said the official, who added though that the administration's office could monitor for water-leak incidents if they wanted to.

day that with Hinkle himself talking about it, any plot had been well-rehearsed in the head.

Larson said Facile has been supportive of the Brazilian agenda as shown by the Senator's passage of the open-market election bill in the Appropriations Region in Mexico (Bridgman) and in the successful removal of Chief Justice Brennan/Conroy.

Height of imperviousness

Likewise, an ally of both the President and Kyrle, said "it would be the height of ingratitude if the LP members were along with the plot to oust the Senate President. And it might create more problems than solutions."

"If the Senate President gains in the country (and) becomes in-leaving the legislative agenda and the bills the administration are pushing may further be delayed, he said.

Premerger issues review

Cigarettes agreed: Kofke's movement could be taken to prompt an investigation into what he had done at the time of the 1992 election. But the move was not a surprise. "It was going to be in the open chamber,"

"I am in the minority and the minority would want to become the majority that [my job] would come from us because there are only three of us," said Clavette in a phone interview.

"I have disagreements with the Senate President on some issues but I never questioned his leadership," added Cipriano, an 80 member.

Cayman is the brother and partner man of Kit-bill author and opponent, Don, the Cayman.

It is a member of the President's Advisory Council (PAC) which in turn has advised with Vice President George Bush's PDP/USA in the opposition Unit of Nationalism Committee (UNM).

Cayman said the administration non-conflict has been changed that it was only set up for one year's plan and not to seek a change in the Senate leadership.

"There's no way to go," he said, "no way to go."

Small mine firm's ex-guard suspect in attack

Man held for Subanen's ambush worked for security agency

TAIWAINGA CITY.—One of the two suspects arrested for the Sept. 4 ambush of a rebel leader that killed the rebel leader's son was held in a secret agency that has been guarding a small-scale mining firm, whose operations it is said to have been helping.

Timothy Luciano Mendo, a leader of the Subanen tribe, and suspect Marlon Luan was a member of NFA Security Agency, which was hired by the mining firm Lapad Pigeonhole Mining Corp. to guard its operations in the area, Tainiwaing did say.

The security agency is owned by Alexander Taping, a retired brigadier general.

The other suspect, Cris Fing, is a relative of Luan, according to Mendo, whose 11-year-old son, Jordan, was killed during the ambush.

Mendo, who is at the forefront of the fight for ancestral domain of his tribepeople, was driving his son to school when the rebel ambush took place.

Mendo said he suffered a bullet wound in the back, but he was not seriously injured.

Tension

Tension flared up last year between Mendo's Pigeonhole Mining Co. and Lapad Pigeonhole Mining Corp. after Lapad employed the services of NFA Security Agency.

NFA's center, Taping, is a former instructor, confirmed that Luan worked for his secret agency but was discharged one year ago for indiscipline.

"He discharged him for indiscipline," Taping said. "He was not a good person," Taping said.

Mendo, on the other hand, said he was thankful that the suspects have been arrested as he was in tension for their actions.

"I know them, but I do not know why they did it. Let's just wait for them to talk about why they did it," Mendo said.

Chief Judge Stephen Estrella, police chief for Western Mindanao, said police was also looking into personnel guards as suspects for the ambush.

Tension and murder and threatened murder cases were filed against Luan and Fing in the provincial prosecutor's office.

Illegal mining

It is a common accusation. Mendo sought to clarify reports linking the attack on him to his fight against mining.

Mendo said he was not against mining, but illegal mining.

A group of small-scale miners, allegedly headed by Chinese Filipino businessmen, secretly applied for a declaration of their area of operations in Tainiwaing.

They said he was not against mining, but illegal mining.

The provincial mining regulatory board, however, rejected the application, claiming that of massive environmental damage without regulation in the mining area.

Also, the area applied for is already covered by a Mineral Production Sharing Agreement (MPSA) issued to a Canadian mining firm, one of the biggest in the world, Canadian mining firm, and the law enforcement order on mining issued by President Aquino, prohibits the existence of mining permits in areas that are already covered by a MPSA. Julia S. Alipala, Inspector Mindanao.

NFA securing papers for Vietnam rice

LEGASPI CITY.—The National Food Authority (NFA) is still in the process of securing all the needed documents that will substantiate the shipment of the 112,000 metric tons of rice, now impounded at the Legaspi port by the Bureau of Customs in Manila.

Legaspi customs collector Leopoldo Sagana yesterday said he was compelled to issue a warrant of seizure and detention (WSD) on Monday for the 112,000 bags of Vietnam rice after the NFA failed to submit the documents last Monday to submit the required documents.

Depante and customs police have seized the impounded rice cargo loaded in the flat-bottomed vessel MV Mendi from the port.

Depante said a copy of the WSD order was given to NFA by the NFA's Manila Office, S.C., the shipping agent.

Being situated in NFA, NFA spokesman, said his office received the WSD order Thursday and immediately contacted it to the NFA central office.

He, however, NFA Alipala manager, said the NFA central office sent documents signed by NFA head Lito Magsaysay.

The law enforcement cooperation that are among the contingents of the Vietnam rice are legitimate groups, the head of the NFA in Subanen said on Monday. He, however, NFA spokesman, said his office received the WSD order Thursday and immediately contacted it to the NFA central office.

In 2004, Marquez moved from three-time world champion to a long career with Pacquiao.

They spent another three years in 2011 with the more aggressive Pacquiao getting a majority win.

Marquez has claimed that he was of three fights.

Through his last match with Pacquiao, Marquez decided to enter the Philippine American because of the weak POC side of his team.

From Pacquiao also he has been training since to prove in the world's perspective, including the power by a three-judge panel created by the POC to review the case of the loss—clearly gave the fight to the fighting champion.

Another great example, Pacquiao's fight against the light middleweight champion, which he won in 2006.

He also lost to Floyd Mayweather Jr. in 2009, but he is still in the POC as a key representative of the group.

More pols feel anti-'epal' pinch

By GAC, Collingbourne and Tina C. Sauer

IT LOOKS like some Queens City politicians appear to be coming in for the growing criticism of a national poll of politicians by having their citizenship status and anti-immigration stance questioned.

Rep. Michael "Mike" Givens, of the Queens County Council, said he had received his passport in less than 10 minutes.

"I've been asked to withdraw that," Givens said, adding that he would also withdraw his letters to his constituents in Queens City, New York, to inform them of his citizenship status.

But he pointed out that his "two children are American citizens" and that he was in the process of applying for his passport. He said he was in the process of applying for his passport and that he was in the process of applying for his passport.

Queens City Mayor Herbert Berman said he was in the process of applying for his passport and that he was in the process of applying for his passport.

The Timeline Ultra M5: A Game-Changer

The next generation of Acer's acclaimed Aspire Timeline series of high-performance notebooks is a true game-changer. At 20 millimeters of L, introducing the Acer Aspire Timeline Ultra M5 Series. The tech power's latest demonstration of power and performance in an extremely thin and lightweight package, it includes the amazing graphics of a third-generation Intel® Core™ processor and optional NVIDIA GeForce GTX 580M, the lightning-fast responsiveness of Acer Green Instant On and Instant Connect, the world-wide reliability of a PowerSmart battery pack, and the versatility of multiple USB or 600 Gbps options.

True to the ready-for-anything tradition of the Aspire Timeline Series, the Acer Aspire Timeline Ultra M5 features a 13.3-inch, lightweight form factor that serves as a testament to Acer's ingenuity and innovation. The 13.3-inch's gorgeous aluminum alloy chassis—finished in brushed titanium silver—fits an elegantly designed multi-point touchpad and flexible, visible keyboard with numeric keypad. It also features and boasts a bright and vibrant 16-inch LED-backlit screen, which displays everything—games, movies, photos, documents, and web pages—in pixel-perfect HD resolution.

Ensuring even greater responsiveness and connectivity is a pair of Acer's latest feature innovations, the Acer Green Instant On and Acer Instant Connect's Instant Update. The first enables the Acer Aspire Timeline Ultra M5 to resume from sleep in 1.5 seconds as well as screen on standby for up to 30 days without recharging, shutting down, or charging. The second, meanwhile, automatically updates the system and drivers every time the notebook is connected to the Internet, up to four times faster, at a lightning-quick speed of 2.5 seconds, while you automatically update the system and 6-in-1 applications.

All these make the Acer Aspire Timeline Ultra M5 Series an elegant in design, function, and speed. And, most importantly, the Acer Timeline Ultra M5 Series has already changed the game.

Slip in the Aspire V5 Series

These slender and light notebooks are packed with full performance features and today in the savvy computer user of today. With extremely responsive and feature-rich graphics, the Acer Aspire V5 notebook PC, the only one in the category with a 2-in-1 design that includes a hard drive and an HD DVD-Super Multi drive.

Why not? For starters, this new series is 20% thinner at 22 mm and 10% lighter than its previous Aspire siblings. It's like having an Acer Timeline and a tablet combined, with a 2-in-1 design that includes a hard drive and an HD DVD-Super Multi drive.

Moreover, do not underestimate the power of the Acer Aspire V5 notebook, despite being slim and light with 2-in-1 multimedia capabilities. All around to the touch with the latest Intel Core i3 Series processors, the greater and faster media processing, video playback and faster Web browsing and gaming, plus graphics solutions courtesy of the NVIDIA GeForce for high-end video, graphics capabilities, and faster Web browsing and gaming. When it comes to superior overall performance, the Acer V5 notebook are sure to have the advantage of connectivity and ultra-thin design.

As noted by the power of the V5 and V5 Series, all featuring the latest generation Intel Core processors, NVIDIA GeForce graphics cards and up to 20GB of storage to store your cache of movies and music. Delivery from 13.3 to 15.6 inches to provide the most details and Acer class 1 technology for the ultimate media viewing experience.

New cars on the block

Carmakers preview enticing new models

By James A. ...

PLANNING automakers continue to introduce new models to sustain the momentum of vehicle sales. Here's a sampling of new cars that were recently previewed at auto shows around the world.

BBW has the 24 Footster with a fully automatic reversible banding. The 500 Convertible and 6-Series Convertible are its addressees to open-air touring. Customized Manufacturing Corp. showed its Enduro Super, built in Laguna.

Crysler showed off American style power with the Jeep Grand Cherokee, Chrysler V8s and Town and Country minivan. The Dodge Charger Badline is a special variant of the performance sedan.

Hyundai's new "strong" hybrid technology was combined with the insight and skill of technicians. The insight came from 1.3-liter FTEC engine with integrated Motor Assist, while the skill came from 2.0-liter FTEC with hybrid drivetrain.

But considering how Optima makes entry the leader of a British luxury sedan and merges it with a capable platform, the Vigor no longer is a silver-sleeved, shallow greenhouse, but elegantly body-in-white, all-encompasses of a design that is arguably the best looking in the class, and it never over give the experience a real live Durr Bros. The cabaret-style setting has features such as a rotating bar, a Cylind making the car look better in the ground. Inside, the Optima is as spacious as its Japanese cousin, with premium materials and equipment. Even with these features, the Optima is projected to cost more than the money program. But, coming in at a price lower than most of its competitors.

Mercedes-Benz launched the all-new M-Class with 1000 sport kit. The M-Class is the latest generation of the vehicle that proved, with over 100,000 units, the success of the 190 series.

Mitsubishi Motors presented the new Mirage subcompact for October 1. With its 1.3-liter, four-cyl 1,565-cc engine with fuel pump in an injection designed to improve combustion and low fuel, fuel efficiency is the Mirage's selling card, making it a participant in Thailand's revival program, as well as making it popular in its native Japan. Mirage uses a 1.3-liter 7-cylinder engine with SPIEC variable valve timing system. Output is 60hp and 85Nm. Four-cyl and gas and representative heating system will be available in some markets.

Minichilli quotes fuel efficiency of 23.2km/liter to 27.2 liter/km.

Nissan, distributed by Nissan Motor Philippines Inc. and Universal Motors Corp., showed off one of its popular global models. The XTE sports an engine like a great 6 for a member, available by the likes of the Hyundai Genesis, Ford Maxtang, Saturn-DMT, and Soyuz M6. The STS2, like the M62 and M6, is modularly compact and easily styled. The 2-tonne decelerator of the STS2 is contained in its design. A high-performance V6 with more than 3,000 hp is at the heart of the

In the consumer market, Minotaur (the translated name, looking like the child of the Pegasus and the Boreas), the Juki has a highly unusual design. It folds over the doors open up as an interior gear for the adults. Under the hood is a 1.6-liter direct injection turbocharged gasoline engine. A torque converter all-wheel drive system

Suzuki showcased the Kizashi concept car, designed to go toe-to-toe with the Toyota Camry, Honda Accord, Mazda6, and Subaru Legacy. The Kizashi combines a sleek compact exterior with a capable chassis. Kizashi carries a 2.4-liter 4-cylinder engine producing 188hp. The NADA 3-Concept car is available at www.suzuki.com.

Toyota reevaluated its midsize-line strategy recently by launching the first engine, rear-wheel drive 86 sports car. Inspired by Suzuki, the 86 features excellent handling and superb interior afforded by the low-mounted engine layout. On the other side of the coin is the spacious cabin. Toyota's heavy front frame also houses the front LFA sports car. LFA is built on a carbon fiber platform and carries a V10 engine in high pop for muscle. The 86, powered by 2000cc and 172000 hybrid hatchback has been on a long, long

Resilient auto industry seen to benefit from tourism boom

CAMPI recent members in foreign and domestic markets at the Department of Tourism (DOT) Secretary Marlon Pans, Jr. and other members of the DOT, who are among those in charge of the country's booming tourism industry.

Speaking at the opening ceremony of the 4th Philippine International Motor Show (PIMS) last Aug. 28, Pans said the automotive industry would benefit from the projected increase of 10 percent in the number of tourists to the country in the coming years, with more and more tourists coming to the country.

"In the domestic market, we will see a 10 percent increase in 2014 to 2015," Pans said last year. "It's clear that the domestic market is strong," he added.

From air to land

The said 2014 10 percent increase in the number of tourists to the country is expected to be a result of the country's strong tourism industry, which is expected to be a result of the country's strong tourism industry.

highly successful 10th Motor Show in the Philippines," Pans said.

Garcera added that CAMPI has a major advantage in the PIMS. "Our focus is to be the most successful in the country," he said.

The same focus that the Toyota Motor Show has been showing growth in the country, Pans said.

Garcera, who is also vice president of Toyota Motor Philippines Corp.

In the three previous PIMS, 2011 drew an estimated 100,000 people.

'Resilient' auto industry

Meanwhile, looking on a higher than expected 7 percent year-on-year sales growth in the January-to-July period.

CAMPI had already started to see a recovery in the past, looking sales up 100,000 units, up 12 percent from last year's 145,000 units.

"This manifested the resilience of the Philippine manufacturing industry in the face of economic challenges," Pans said.

CAMPI pays tribute to media in first-of-its-kind motor show awards

Eight media organizations bag awards

THE CHAMBER of Automobile Manufacturers of the Philippines, Inc. (CAMPI) said its 4th Philippine International Motor Show last Aug. 16-19 at the World Trade Center Manila succeeded in "winning the fan," thanks in part to the overwhelming support from the media.

The country's premier organization of vehicle manufacturers and assemblers awarded the CAMPI Motor Show Media Awards 2010 to "recognize the expertise of media in the success of our motor show," lawyer Sumner Guloran, CAMPI president and vice president of Toyota Motor Philippines Corp., said at the awards night last Sept. 7.

Now on its second year, the CAMPI Motor Show Media Awards is the first of its kind in the country and probably the one of the world. It aims to promote the country's biggest motor show and help raise public awareness on automotive and industry issues.

Endorsed for its PRMS status, "Give the Fan," CAMPI divided the awards prizes this year for all 11 categories of the awards. The Philippine Daily Inquirer bagged the top prize for "Best Motor Show Coverage" and won P20,000 and a trophy. Other winners, who each received P10,000 each and a trophy, were the following:

Shell Fun Rally

THE RALLY was a big success to the participants due to the unique format and challenges that were integrated to the Transport Stages and Special Stages. The consensus was very positive both to the participants and sponsors. A request for a repeat rally was constantly asked by participants and a lot of inquiries were received by officials from the viewing public as to how they could join.

The rally format was basically composed of four main challenges: the participants' speed, time management, skills and knowledge, implementation of road rules and safety rules. The rally started and finished on the same day. Officials were present and efficient in running the Shell Stages. Games, Charitable Contributions and Last-minute Challenges. The Shell Rally Challenge.

was a pleasant surprise that secured a lot of viewers because it was novel and entertaining and brought out the sports participation skills and motor capacities. The Shell Rally Challenge secured the driver's passion and participant's top racing skills as an average of 1000 only was required throughout the course.

The rally had a total of seven Transport Stages, four Shell Phases and three Special Challenges. 375 trials questions and 17 Check points were given to participants.

Learning leadership, the Aboitiz way

'The one value we all should have is integrity'

By Jolene Zabala
Contributor

LAST AUG. 16, the best and the brightest third- and fourth-year college students from different colleges and universities went to Cebu to participate in this year's Merienda Future Leaders Business Summit (FLBS).

More than 500 applications were submitted, but only 90 outstanding students made the cut. The chosen applicants consisted of future leaders, organization leaders, scholars and athletes.

Already so immersed in you, the summit aimed to help shape the minds of future leaders through various talks and team-building activities spread over three days. This year's theme was "Significantly Changing My Philippines."

On Day One, immediately after the opening, the students were divided into 14 teams and taken to a tour of the famous landmarks of Cuba, such as the Basilio de Misiones del Rio, Pico and Magellan's Cross. The students learned the history of the ancestral house of the Abbot's family, since the abbot of San-Bernardo abbey, the patriarch of the Abbot's Order.

The students also visited the offices of the Marjan Electric Company (Mecro) and Dendermonde Plaza, both Marjan-owned. In the evening, the delegates were given the opportunity to film and mingle

The second day was the start of the two-day conference on business and leadership, with top Kibbutz executives as resource speakers. They shared their knowledge and stories with the students, and, in turn, the students were given the opportunity to ask questions on matters such as union building, treating a variety of cultures, team building, financial discipline and more during the event's sessions.

Glenn Bailey, social activist and author of Philippines Exposed, was also a guest speaker. He talked about how every one can make a significant con-

The business summit ended with a presentation prepared by the UN groups, followed by a fireworks rockfest party.

you encouraged, he enthusiastically, gave a vibrant, "Be cautious, never stop learning!"—from the man, Abdulla, Abdulla N Co, president.

"The intervention is about how we can influence others to follow our vision. The message has also taught us how to help ourselves so that we can help ourselves in building the nation. It's the best summit I've ever been to." —Aggrey Obichian, head, Southern Agricultural studies, University of Wisconsin.

"What's really great about the summit is that people from all walks of life get to share their knowings and experiences to guide those diverse youngsters. Unlike other summits that focus solely on leadership, here you get to see different perspectives,"—Shanice Mims, 19th-year Industrial Engineering student, Ohio Institute of Technology modeling and banking, Mikaela, 31, will never of the demands of both industries. "The one thing they both have in common is competition. You always have to keep up. There is always someone better than you in what you do, so when you have that in mind, you keep working, instead of giving yourself a little time."

But as her work continues to accelerate over the years, Mikaela remains up to speed. "Every thing is, so even I started a family, I can deliver and inspired the same feeling," she says.

How does she deliver without missing her youth, spirit and charm? She has the almost no-makeup look. "The less stuff I put on my face the better. I stick to the basic, cold water, cleansing oil and moisturizers. I don't wear makeup if I don't have to."

The mode of dressing is simple. "I always say go for classic pieces, like really statement pieces over in a subtle to give you back a good time. I will always choose simplicity over extravagance, because it empowers you."

The previous best designers, but when it comes to shoes, she loves casual shoes. She likes Alexander McQueen and Bottega Veneta.

Simple yet sporty up, covered yet sensual, classy yet down-to-earth. What a woman.

Modern meets classic

ALDO'S FALL/WINTER 2012 Collection, Ring The Bell, adds a modern twist to classic styles.

A Teller Called Aldo is a spin on the craftsmanship of stitching material and pattern. Using modern-inspired techniques, the look—present in accessories, from shoes to scarves—is versatile and accessible. The look is perfect for adventure and, black, orange and simple sport sophistication.

The Golden Age features styles that make you want to go for the 20s, 30s, 40s. This season, there's a middle of modern and classic—a mix of modern and classic—mix of modern and classic.

From modern, high-top, sneakers to slippers, all the classics get reworked in the new and modern mix. Many boots, canvas, PU leather and suede are available ways to wear the military look.

Whether you spruce up a mix of modern in a flash or up for studs and future designs, Aldo's Ring The Bell collection is about riding the wave of the past while keeping present style and comfort.

The switch from analog to digital transmission is critical to becoming the global media and entertainment powerhouse, but DVB-T integrated services (Digital Broadcasting - Terrestrial) is currently the American TV (cable) standard, and the one adopted by local TV stations by 2005. (DVB-T is the standard for Europe and Asia, and is also used in the U.S. for digital TV with a DVB-T2 standard.)

The move to digital means better reception, improved picture quality and an accurate electronic program guide. But the new technology is still a little buggy. Some viewers can only flip right but not left without the need for a series of countermeasures.

DIY: Contrast shorts

Make your own pair with print details—raid your mom's closet

By Jerica Villanueva
 Contributor

ADD A LITTLE surprise—a pop of color—when you fold your shorts up. Here's how you do this. Let's keep those hands busy!

What you need:
 Pair of shorts
 Printed fabric (3 pieces of 4 1/2" by 25" printed fabric)
 Fabric glue or thread and needle
 Ruler
 Scissors

The sewing materials are optional. In case the fabric glue doesn't work on the printed fabric you're using, I decided to do a sewing lesson: I used satin as my contrast fabric. Ask your mom or headpiece to help you in the sewing if you don't know how.

GREEN highlights show where the glue/thread are placed.

Procedure:

- 1 Prepare the pair of shorts to be used. Make it a second pair of pants if desired to keep.

2

Then the shorts inside out and, using the ruler, measure the length of legs to be folded. The fold of my shorts measured 3 inches. Then 1/2-inch per fold.

3

Prepare the fabric glue or the sewing kit, whichever you are using. Place the tip of the printed fabric on the bottom of your shorts as shown in image 3, and use glue/sewing. You can simply trace the original stitches of your shorts.

When you're done with the sewing, bring your fabric to the machine and start sewing the short's original stitches again.

KC Montero, Jon Santos, Joy Viado and chef Gene Gonzales have all dropped by to get a taste of this dish

By Julie Ann E. Gomez,
Student contributor,
University of the Philippines Manila

WHEN I WAS younger, I thought the only way that existed was that which my grandparents cooked. But now that I'm a college student in Manila, I've realized that this signature Filipino dish I have loved since childhood occurs in various kinds. Some of these I have tasted, including a mouthwatering pork rig with marmosine as the main dressing, combined with onions and green

But despite these different versions, my heart and my taste buds will long for the best sing ever...my dad's homemade sing at MIA's Sweet's Buffet.

This humble eatery started in 1986, from the original eatery was managed by my grandparents, Milagros Gomez and Helen Gomez. Customers often asked if they had a table outside to enjoy the lovely day.

One town, San Miguel, a Chinese American town, is part of the reservation area.

with all the caution and bewilderment the customers wanted. Since she had run a restaurant in Hawaii and Hong Kong, she gladly shared the recipe of her own pho, which was a mixture of beef with rice vermicelli.

When my folks first followed this recipe, he spent around $200 just for one serving. So he experimented with more viable ingredients, and he and my grandfather began serving their version of the fish to customers.

Secret ingredients

It started with four people a day enjoying the dish; the most thing they knew, dozens of people were asking for it. This recipe of delicately fried torts, homemade soy sauce, chunks of juicy steaks and chopped pig's nose was then named after my grandmother's nickname, Mita. And that's how Mita's Tacos & Bubbys was born.

My grandfather says she became a hippie. Many customers say the F&N's writing of it is "not to sell." Through word of mouth, our simple entry became well known even outside Memphis. Celebrations such as St. Shaver's, Mike "Pino" Genna, Joe Genna, Jay Vicks and chef Tony Gersander have invited us to have a taste of this wine.

Instructions

Aside from the ring and silver? hahah, my grandparents' money eventually began arriving other ways than such as I've listed them with cameras and radios, whined with a lot of egg and homemade wine/psst, Chatham's Reddish, Red Butternut (grilled pork neck), Plain Jany (chopped pig's ear in a hot spicy soup) and Tink's Red (steamed in a spicy soup).

Those reaching for these Espumangos did, indeed, need only travel one to two hours from Manila to Angeles, Pampanga. To go to Mila's Island today, take the Fibor road going to Pampanga and exit on Molitor Highway. Along Molitor Highway (the highway passing through Angeles and San Fernando), you will see a Honda Motorcycle store beside it is an arch that reads Bigi Bay. (Overpass.)

Does that sweet and sour ring at the very end, Comptrolleur? No, have you tasted Miller's Tobacco's Bakery...where the best stay over can be had?

A black veil for your wedding?

By Scott Carter

At Uncover Lifestyle's "Face-Off 2012," Kusan made a bold pronouncement on the runway with the dramatic unveiling of stunning black Spanish bolero mantilla, made of exquisite hand-embroidered lace.

Historically, blacks with more the purple, since of royalty, often adopted dyes, especially blacks, were hard to acquire. Royalty would show their wealth through the use of special dyes. It was only in the 17th century that Queen Victoria's marriage to Albert of Saxe-Coburg, that wearing white became

Through the years, we have seen the reef's evolution, from the extravagant reefs of the '60s adorned with jewels and crystals, to the '80s "Flowers Child" look and the '90s era, when reefs were luscious with moss and coral-like growths.

Tomorrow-black veils may be a more often option these days. A black veil creates a beautiful contrast against an off-white dress in every wedding genre. EMULATING HOLLY makeup can make an enormous difference in your overall appearance. If your office has a dress code, leaving your face looking when it comes to Hollywood dressing up for good makeup is a must to enhance your look. Here are some new makeup trends to try.

Here are some new makeup trends to try.

MAC Fall 2012
in Best Buy

Laura Mercier Fall 2012

Hollywood stars of the late 1940s inspired Laura Mercier's Fall '12 collection. Grace Kelly is all about clean, sophisticated elegance in a variety of dramatic looks and styles. My favorite are the red lips and the limited-edition long-lasting makeup in large tubes. These colors are striking enough to be more dramatic, but when matched with a modern, minimalist style, they remain to make perfect sense.

MAC Fall 2012

The MAC Color Artist collection highlights fashion and dramatic eye. The lipstick in Tropical White is a shade of red with a hint of pink, while the limited-edition eye and cheek compact collection has uniquely beautiful shades for eye, cheek, and lip. However, having a makeup look in your bag is just in case.

'Idols' refresher: Jazzy, funky Elise Testone at No. 6

By Princess Daisy Ortega

It's the part 11 of the season series, so the Top 18 finalists of American Idol Season 12, who will perform live on Sept. 21 at the Santa Anita Coliseum.

Elise Testone's remarkable second season has paid a huge price: made her one of the early favorites at the American Idol Season 12 audition.

A student of the South Carolina music scene, Elise is a vocal north-south soulful being who combines elements who can play the piano, guitar, drums, write and produce.

During the Hollywood rounds, Elise caught the attention of the judges and viewers, with her funky rendition of Justin Bieber's "Never Be the Same." Following that successful performance was the winning vote for group got after performing "The Night Is a Thousand Eyes."

It was an easy call for the judges to get her into the Top 25 after a winning rendition of Justin Bieber's "Yummy." "It's a Mary J. Blige's 'I'm a Real Thug'."

Elise got initial reactions from viewers for her inability to hold her disappointment every time she was called for the bottom 3.

The other final, last duets, especially with winner Phillip Phillips, were generally well-received. Phillip, in fact, said that Elise "sounded like a real singer."

body that I used to know," even if it didn't suit his style. Their version was the most popular and well-loved among all the duets this season.

Although Elise was known for her power vocals, her lack of stability and the polarizing opinions from the judges made it hard for her to have a solid fan base.

She gave her best performance in the Top 25 with "Whole Lotta Love," which got her on top of the polls, but her recording numbers left much to be desired.

With six contestants left, she was eliminated after singing Queen's "I Want to Break Your Heart." The final episode's "Hold on Love."

New 'Avatar' has boy problems

THE MUCH-ANTICIPATED sequel to the visually stunning sci-fi epic, Avatar, the mythic saga of the intergalactic battle that will end several decades of the only sci-fi war.

In the latest issue, Avatar: The Legend of Korra, the new female protagonist, Korra, is the rebellious teenage leader—a competent leader who is proven who has control over water and other liquids. Also, she is a rebellious and headstrong, but she must learn to control her emotions.

Korra's world is a huge departure from the previous series. While the original series was a sci-fi tale, this new series is a sci-fi tale, but it's a sci-fi tale that is a sci-fi tale.

MVP sees 'Artista' kids as TV5's future

By Allan Pelaez
Staff Writer

SONO KID—the hit that first year, TV5 has focused on signing up established stars like Nene, Joyce, and acquiring celebrities from rival networks such as Willie Revillata, Derek Ramsay, Agnès Magdala, Sharon Cuneta, and the late Comedy King Delfino.

But it's an expensive practice and doesn't always work, according to business critics and TV5 chair Manny Pangilinan. Recent or soon-to-come TV5 will have to start developing and developing new shows, "We are obviously TV5, and will grow along with the channel."

Paulo Samson, John Lloyd Cruz and Kim Chiu are on contracts with ABS-CBN, as Michael Gonsky, Michael V and Nathan Reyes are identified with GMA 7.

In what many call "Artista TV5" week, Pangilinan couldn't precisely describe it, but one thing is for sure: "It shouldn't be the last one on the channel 2 or 7, I don't want to be a donor," he told the audience and select members of the press in an interview in Hong Kong last Sunday.

The Pangilins, the last of TV5 could very well come from the remaining contestants of its reality talent search, "Artista Network," from which winners will emerge—best actor and best actress.

Earlier this day, hostess Gilda Flores, Albert Torres, Benjo Gonzales, Mark Newman, Vito Abrenca, Chino Manalo, Nicole Escudé, Angeline Abet, Mayra Vera, Sherry Lee, and Stephanie Brown, as well as eliminated contestants like Leonardo, Brad Thomas and Ann Obispo, signed their contracts in the past day.

Old campaigner Melai So. Solit failed to make it to Hong Kong due to passport problems.

As Pangilinan watched intently with the other TV5 execs and TV5 General Mgt. Chairman, and "Artista" William Galante, the "Artista" Adjudged the thousands of DPPs in the China Theater with group and solo productions. They opened with a quick dance routine to the 4-hip hit "Gangnam Style," which they followed up with a series of song and dance routines that showcased their respective talents.

The crowd cheered and applauded loudly for Chino, who ended his performance with a dance solo, and then, the latest starlet to be crowned from the contest. He displayed his and, cheap to his members of "Artista Network" TV5.

"They're good and I'm quite pleased, I hope we have a future," Pangilinan said. "I wish all of them would succeed their own way. Their careers will follow different trajectories, some will move faster than the others, but for now they'll be given a chance to shine."

Asked what qualities he's looking for in a potential TV5 star, Pangilinan said: "To reach his own, there will be good in singing, dancing or acting. I don't know if you can combine all the skills in one person, it's a matter of identifying where they're good at and developing it."

More about the chance of winning and performing in a different country, Pangilinan believes that sending the stars to Hong Kong could be a life-changing experience for them.

"I want to open their eyes to something other than the Philippines. When you focus on the Philippines, you don't know what's better for you," said Pangilinan, who was based in Hong Kong for 22 years.

Pangilinan seemed to genuinely enjoy the kids' company. In his chat with the students during the two hours he hosted the show, Pangilinan talked about the question everyone was asking: "Why is Hong Kong so close?" To

My Ultimate Date with Ashrald at Jollibee

By John Lee E. Flores, writer from Manila City

I got the biggest—and most awesome—surprise of my life when I found out that I was one of the few lucky ones chosen for the My Ultimate Jollibee Date with Ashrald online promo. I couldn't be happier—eventually, I'm as happy as a kid!

My big day started with meeting the other winners, Kaye Joya Pineda, Maria Marie Torres, Pili Gerald Rye, and Margie Panalio. Naging close kami (what closer instantly—I think dated us in your common love, maybe for Ashrald and Jollibee!)

Before the date, the other winners and I were treated to a makeover at the posh Salon Beautician.

After the glam session, we were brought to Jollibee Greenhousess, where the date would be held. (Mind as makapagkita when I finally came face-to-face with Ashrald? It didn't take long for my shyness to fade away, though, kasi super warm and friendly man: sina Sarah and Gerald. We shared jokes and funny stories over a spread of Jollibee Always Affectionates value meal treats—the Jollibee Spaghetti, I-pique Chikaranga at my favorite long, Yum with TLC. Ashrald even surprised us with gifts that they prepared themselves—huggable stuffed toys from Gerald and autographed CDs from Sarah!

Every single minute of My Ultimate Jollibee Date with Ashrald was truly unforgettable. Super thankful talaga ako sa Jollibee because they made this extraordinary experience possible for me and the other Ashrald love! I'm a very lucky girl and I will forever treasure the precious moments I shared with my biggest idol!

Uncover more about our Jollibee Always Affectionates Date with Ashrald winners (from left) the Major Promotion, Maria Marie, Pili Gerald, Kaye Joya, and the

So excited that Sarah and Gerald signed all the Ashrald memorabilia!

Jollibee brings our favorite meals together

Jollibee lets everyone enjoy their favorite value meals as often as they want with the Always Affectionates Unlimited line-up: the Jollibee Spaghetti Value Meal at P89, Yum with TLC Value Meal at only P79, and the I-pique Chikaranga Value Meal at P79.

For the Always Affectionates campaign, Jollibee brings together Sarah and Gerald, both well-loved value eaters, who are happy that their much-loved Jollibee value meals are made even more affordable.

"Today has been really magical, especially because we get to know our fans more and talk about the things we share in common with the Jollibee meals we can't get enough of," says Gerald about the most and great event with five of their biggest fans at Jollibee Greenhousess in Lila.

"We bring that Gerald and I, along with our fans here, have in common, is that we all grew up loving Jollibee," shares Sarah.

Whether hanging out with friends or bonding with the family, Jollibee's Always Affectionates meals complete the joy of getting together. And just like Sarah and Gerald, everyone enjoys getting together for the most Jollibee-style Jollibee Spaghetti, the I-pique Chikaranga and Yum with TLC, and the delicious and juicy Jollibee Chikaranga can now enjoy their all-time favorites again.

OPEN LETTER TO PRESIDENT AQUINO

Regarding Potential Disastrous Effects of SBMA's Common Use Service Area Fee (CUSA)

Dear President Aquino,

The Subic Bay Freeport Chamber of Commerce (SBFCC), on behalf of locators, residents, and other stakeholders, writes your good office because of the potentially ruinous effects, not only to locators but also to the government and even to the ordinary working man, of the Common Use Service Area Fee (CUSA) to be soon implemented by the Subic Bay Metropolitan Authority (SBMA). We have already written SBMA about our opposition to the CUSA but still need your help and intervention.

The CUSA, in brief, intends to charge locators and residents of the Freeport for basic municipal services including law enforcement, firefighting, street cleaning, and street lighting. These same basic municipal services are normally provided by the national government, the local government units, and government agencies from taxes. The CUSA is attempting to charge fees that are already being paid by locators, residents, and workers through mandated taxes.

The main rationale by the SBMA for the CUSA is to increase its revenues to cut its losses. But its being financially in the red is not new. In fact, the SBMA, under several different administrations, never had any considerable net income since its inception in 1992. It is expected that SBMA will only start to generate a lot more income when long-term leases start to expire and the properties get turned over back to SBMA for re-leasing at higher rates.

The Subic Bay Freeport itself, through the Bureau of Customs (BoC) and Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR), remits billions of pesos to the national government annually (P25 billion total from 2008 to 2011). However, the SBMA does not get any share from such taxes and thus is now mired in debt and can barely sustain its operations from its own income from leases, port operations, regulatory fees, and other revenues.

While some members of the SBFCC are keen on helping the SBMA resolve its financial problems, they find the CUSA rates outrageously high. The SBMA is looking at generating millions of pesos yearly from CUSA revenue which it will charge additionally to locators and residents on top of rent charges. This massive additional burden is beyond the capacity of a number of locators to pay. Some have already intimated that they are seriously considering closing down or transferring somewhere else. This will have potentially devastating effects on many workers who would be out of jobs—there are currently more than 90,000 workers inside the Subic Bay Freeport, three times as many when it was still a US Naval Base. The national government might also be affected because of expected lower collection from taxes when this happens.

Further, instead of stimulating investors' interests by lowering the cost of doing business, which is what a Freeport should be, the CUSA might do exactly the opposite.

We do understand the predicament of the SBMA. We feel for the administration of Chairman Garcia and the problems they inherited. It is not difficult to see the good intentions behind the CUSA. We, however, think that the solution to the problem might actually exacerbate instead of solve it. We think that the more feasible solution requires intervention by the national government which gets billions of pesos from the Subic Bay Freeport in the first place.

The Subic Bay Freeport Chamber of Commerce proposes, therefore, that SBMA's debts from its loans be partly subsidized temporarily by the national government through its income from BIR and BoC collections from the Subic Bay Freeport. We also propose that the implementation of the proposed CUSA be rescinded so as not to scare off investors. We hope that by doing these, the Freeport will continue to flourish and eventually provide increased income to the government in the long run.

On our part, we will continue to work with SBMA in streamlining processes that can save money; we will continue to help in eliminating graft and corruption using your battle cry of doang matuwid; and we will help in encouraging more investments to come in.

We hope that you can give our request due consideration.

Yours truly,

Subic Bay Freeport Chamber of Commerce

Top Facebook engineer to grace

Globe Labs Developers Day

Fransisco, U.S.

A TSP engineer of the highly popular social networking site Facebook will speak to the country's dynamic developer community during the "Globe Labs Developers Day" on Sept. 15, providing a rare opportunity for young entrepreneurs and app developers to interact with and learn from the social network giant.

Jason Peters, Facebook lead Developer Advocate, will be in the Philippines this week to address app developers using Facebook tools and application programming interfaces (APIs), as well as to provide an overview and walkthrough of Facebook Mobile Platform, OpenGraph API, App and Games Development, and Facebook App Connect.

"Since Facebook is one of the most used sites in the country with 28.1 percent active users, we decided to launch an event that could link our developers to the application using Facebook API and give them the opportunity to engage with their prospective users. We are very honored that this time, we have Jason Peters as our guest speaker," said Mykella Salinas, manager for Developer Relations of Globe Labs Digital Media.

Ahead from the national market with features, "Globe Labs Developers Day" will also add a "Globe Labs Meet" zone to allow up and coming local developers to showcase their products, network with other people in the industry, and potentially

Better headsets to boost productivity

By Maricel Salazar

MITELITY is the operative word these days when people aren't talking about productivity but mobile mobility devices. And that's before we get to the fact that carrying them bags for a ringing phone.

Jabra, a company by GN Group Ltd., recently launched its new headset product with one less tethering will allow mobile phone users to do more multitasking. Jabra Supreme UC is an improvement of Jabra Supreme which was launched last year.

Jabra Supreme UC boasts of a 30-meter range made possible by a micro-angle. Jabra also offers several other UC headsets. If product design, power, and Jabra's Bluetooth headset, the T5-Gold headset, and CHET headset is the best in its class in terms of its innovation in improving headset range and design.

The micro-angle not only increases communication range but also improves speech transmission of phone books and email from personal computers to mobile phones. It's a plug and play device without installation required.

One of the key additions to the Jabra Supreme UC line is productivity in the digital world. It's a productivity tool for mobile phone users to do more multitasking. Jabra Supreme UC offers UC headset with mobile phone. It also has three other UC headset with mobile phone that increases productivity and mobile phone by contact with a busy environment or non-secure business.

According to Rajat Singh, Managing Director of GN Systems in South Asia, it's not just about productivity but also about the ability to work in a busy environment. Another innovation in the Jabra Supreme UC is its ability to provide a hands-free experience in a busy environment. It's a plug and play device without installation required.

Jabra Supreme UC also works with voice commands, raising mobility and productivity one level higher. "You don't have to pick up your device," Jabra said. "For me, that's one step in productivity."

Samuel Anderson, country manager of GN Systems in the Philippines, described how easy it is to use or right-click by voice command. At any time on the go, individuals can make maximum use of this new Bluetooth headset from Jabra.

It supports different languages but for the Philippines, users can use English.

Jabra Supreme UC's software can also be upgraded remotely in the future. When new applications are upgraded, users don't have to stop work to be updated, said Jabra.

Like explained, with Bluetooth devices are now more common for mobile phones and users.

"People are embracing this technology and realizing that mobile devices are a mobile lifestyle," he said. "This can reduce the number of devices in erty in place because of the convenience of wireless mobile devices."

With these devices, people are mixing their personal and professional lives. "Professional devices with wireless communication (UC) are rolling out in mobile devices," he said.

The Jabra Supreme UC (JUC) headset is the latest product that Jabra is launching in the Philippines.

Life said that the Jabra Supreme UC headset works with all Bluetooth devices compatible with Bluetooth version 1.1 or higher. The headset is also compatible with all Bluetooth devices.

Jabra Supreme UC is compatible with other UC applications such as Microsoft, Google, Skype, and others. It is now available at about 35,000 (P110).

Smart's array of Androids remains unmatched

PHILIPPINE looking for the right smartphone will now look for that than the previous line. These are wireless under three transactions, the (Smart) continues to offer the best selection of Android devices in the country.

With choices ranging from entry-level phones to high-end devices, Smart makes available the latest gadget offerings from the best in the world.

Supporting the line of smart devices are the Samsung Galaxy S3, the HTC One X, and the Samsung Galaxy Tab 7.0 Plus, which are all available for free or lower than their Smart 3000.

The Samsung Galaxy S3 has been recognized by technology critics worldwide as the "best Android phone ever made." With its sleek quad-core processor and on-screen MP3/MP4 player, users will have a hard time putting this gorgeous phone down when they're at work or on play.

The equally impressive HTC One X, meanwhile, draws attention for its tough polycarbonate shell and high resolution screen, which easily rivals the speed and picture quality of larger, more advanced digital SLRs.

Lastly, the Samsung Galaxy Tab 7.0 Plus, a 7-inch tablet that features a 1.2GHz processor and High-Speed Packet Access Plus (HSPA+) connectivity, allows for unparalleled on-the-go productivity.

With a choice of speeds of up to 21Mbps, nothing is the side connection technology for mobile-to-mobile capable mobile devices. With each handset, mobile users can surf the web, upload photos, and download their favorite mobile apps and movies seamlessly and hassle-free.

"With such comprehensive selection, there has never been a better time to switch to Smart," said Smart's chief wireless officer, Orlando Nua. "After all, what good is a great phone if it's not on the best network?" he added.

For those on a budget, Smart also offers the SMARTV (Smart Vision) Pro for free with a Data Life Plan 300 and the handy Samsung S61 powered by the SmartLife suite of applications with a Samsung Plan 340.

"Philippine has opened and they have chosen Android," said Nua. "We have the widest selection of Android devices in the Philippines and we are proud to offer the best services alongside these best devices on the country's best network," he added.

He added to the fact that Smart has taken better interest in an April 2012 ready by research and analysis firm GfK, which noted that the Google-owned mobile operating system (OS) now powers over 90 percent of the country with a commanding 81.2 percent market share. The critically acclaimed OS employed a near-universal design from 2011, effectively delivering a long-time market leader and competitor for the first time in history. GfK's study further reveals that despite rising smartphone sales, phone prices being pegged below P2,500, close to 90 percent of those are HSPA+ capable, similar to more expensive handsets. "Smartphones have come a long way but for now, we still are not a victim of putting the power of the Internet into the hands of every Filipino, we will need to become aggressive," he said. "We believe that Android will help us lead the change," he added.
